"I am part of the LIFE programme team focusing on climate change. I am very passionate about my job and even though the work ahead is huge, it's also exciting. I see new ideas across Europe converge in our calls for proposals and turn into successful projects contributing to the progress and well-being of people and the planet. CINEA is the right place to work as it is the Agency delivering the Green Deal. I feel that my personal effort is an important part of a bigger picture, also contributing to the citizen's perception of the EU working to improve lives."

"What I enjoy most about my work is taking care of projects from their evaluation until their closure. The second aspect is building confidence, engaging, communicating and solving issues together with the beneficiaries. Finally, the most awesome part is to see the projects completed and put into operations for the benefit of EU citizens."
